Amazing God, you have gathered us from many places to come together and praise you this day. For this we are grateful! As we worship today, may our minds be opened to learn your wisdom. May our eyes be opened to places that need healing. May our hands be opened to do your good work. May our hearts be opened to your Holy Spirit, who gifts us and guides us. Silent Meditation

I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say

489

Horatius Bonar, 1846; alt.

Matt. 11:28-30; John 4:7-15; 8:12

1 I heard the voice of Je-sus say, "Come un-to me and rest;
 2 I came to Je-sus as I was, so wea-ry, worn, and sad,
 3 I heard the voice of Je-sus say, "Be-hold, I free-ly give
 4 I came to Je-sus, and I drank of that life-giv-ing stream;

Lay down, O wea-ry one, lay down your head up-on my breast."
 And there I found a rest-ing place, where Je-sus made me glad!
 The liv-ing wa-ter; thirst-y one, draw near, and drink, and live."
 My thirst was quenched, my soul re-vived, and now I am re-deemed.

5 I heard the voice of Je-sus say,
 "I am this lost world's Light,
 Look un-to me; your morn shall rise,
 and all your day be bright."

6 I looked to Je-sus, and I found
 my guid-ing Star, my Sun;
 And in that light of life I'll go till trav-el-ing days are done.

Horatius Bonar was one of the founders of the Free Church of Scotland. A man of wide scholarship and great devotion to his ministry, he wrote nearly one book a year, as well as some 600 hymns.

Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever. Amen.

"LIFE EVERY VOICE AND SING"

lyrics for offertory

Congregation is encouraged to lift their voices and SING

Lift every voice and sing, 'til earth and heaven ring, ring with the harmonies of liberty.

Let our rejoicing rise, high as the listening skies,
let it resound, loud as the rolling sea.

Sing a song full of the faith that the dark past has taught us,
Sing a song, full of the hope that the present has brought us.
Facing the rising sun of our new day begun,
Let us march on, til victory is won.

Stony the road we trod, bitter the chastening rod, felt in the days when hope unborn died.
Yet with a steady beat, have not our weary feet
come to the place for which our fathers sighed.

We have come over a way that with tears has been watered,
We have come treading our path through the blood of the slaughtered.
Out from the gloomy past 'til now we stand at last where the white gleam of our bright star is cast.

God of our weary years, God of our silent tears,
Thou who hast brought us thus far on the way,
Thou who hast by Thy might, led us into the light,
keep us forever in the path we pray.

Lest our feet stray from the places, our God, where we met Thee, lest our hearts, drunk with the wine of the world, we forget Thee, shadowed beneath Thy hand, may we forever stand
true to our God, true to our native land.

O Morning Star, How Clear and Bright

Isa. 60:19-20; Rom. 15:7-13

Philipp Nicolai, 1598

Transl. Catherine Winkworth, 1863, alt.

1 O Morn-ing Star, how clear and bright, your beam shines forth in 2 Come heaven-ly Bright-ness, Light di-vine, and deep with-in my truth and light! My Sov-ereign meek and low-ly! O Root of Jes-se, heart now shine, there make your-self an al-tar! Fill me with joy and

Prom-ised One, my God and Rul-er, you have won my heart to serve you strength to be your mem-ber, joined e-ter-nal-ly in love that can-not sole-ly! You are ho-ly, great and glo-rious, all-vic-to-rious, fal-ter; Long-ing for you does pos-sess me; turn and bless me;

Rich in bless-ing, rule and might o'er all pos-sess-ing.
Here in sad-ness eye and heart long for your glad-ness.

This German chorale by Lutheran pastor Philipp Nicolai became so popular that its tune was chimed by church bells and its words engraved on pottery. It has been called "the nation of heaven."

Tune: WIE SCHÖN LEUCHTET 8.8.7.8.8.7.4.8.4.8.

Philipp Nicolai, 1598

Harm. J. S. Bach, c. 1731

"This Little Light" continued:

2 Ev-ery-where I go . . .

3 All--through the night . . .

"This Joy I Have" continued:

2 This love I have . . .

3 This hope I have . . .

This Little Light of Mine

African-American spiritual

Matt. 5:14-16

The musical score is written for a single melodic line on a treble clef staff, with a bass line on a bass clef staff. The key signature has one sharp (F#), and the time signature is 4/4. The melody is simple and repetitive, with a strong emphasis on the words. The lyrics are written below the staff, and the music is divided into four systems. The first system starts with a treble clef and a key signature of one sharp. The second system continues the melody. The third system continues the melody. The fourth system ends with a double bar line and a final chord. The lyrics are: 1 This lit - tle light of mine, I'm gon-na let it shine, this lit - tle light of mine, I'm gon-na let it shine, This lit - tle light of mine, I'm gon-na let it shine, let it shine, let it shine, let it shine, let it shine. (let it shine.)

1 This lit - tle light of mine, I'm gon-na let it shine,

this lit - tle light of mine, I'm gon-na let it shine,

This lit - tle light of mine, I'm gon-na let it shine, let it shine, let it shine, let it shine, (let it shine.)

2 Ev-ery-where I go, I'm gon-na let it shine . . .

3 All--through the night, I'm gon-na let it shine . . .

This was the favorite song of civil rights activist Fannie Lou Hamer, who could sing as well as she could give powerful speeches. During that era this spiritual was sometimes modified and sung as "This little light of freedom."

Restoring Beauty

There's a white-washed stone and thatched roof cottage in Ireland that sits on a cliff. From every weather-beaten shuttered window there is a view of the sea that has inspired poets and composers for centuries. Wildflowers dance amid the grassy bluffs where a passing sheep or two can be found perfecting the storybook setting.

I stumbled upon this cottage during one of my bouts with writer's block. I had a pressing deadline, yet no inspiration. So, I decided to Google "Irish cottages for sale." Sadly, this dream cottage was not on the market. It was a vacation rental.

I was intrigued, but not with the possible dates in which to book a much-needed getaway. There on the website was the history of the cottage and how its owners restored the structure that had fallen not only into disrepair but had become what looked like just a pile of rocks.

Each before and after picture had me in awe. The restoration project was a massive undertaking. Yet what impressed me was not the amount of time, money and energy they put into bringing this ancient cottage back to life. What impressed me was that they had the eyes to see the beauty lurking in the rubble.

I am grateful that there are people who can see the possibilities in this world when others can't. I often show my husband, with great excitement, dilapidated old homes that are for sale. I begin pointing to the amazing stone foundation. I trace with my finger on the realtor's picture the faint outline of a chimney to what would have been a huge open hearth used for cooking. He, though, can't see what I see. He still sees just a pile of wood that would cost many dollars to rebuild.

But what would this world look like if we weren't blind to the "what can be's"? This question goes beyond Irish cottages, and even beyond the New England clapboard saltboxes I constantly dream about restoring.

I am talking about the "what can be's" that Jesus sees amid the broken beams, crumbling foundations and caved roofs of our lives. For just when we think rebuilding our life is impossible, Jesus not only sees that restoration is possible. Jesus makes it happen.

Many years ago, Jesus urged God's children to let their lights shine. Don't hide your light under a bushel basket. Shine — and shine brightly. Shine amid the rubble and ruin. Shine so that the God beauty can be seen. Shine to reveal that there is always hope. Shine, because the God truth is this: A pile of stone can indeed become a beautiful cottage once again.

Loving God, forgive us when we start believing that restoration work is just too hard and costly. Open our eyes to see what You see — that all things are possible with You. Come into our lives this day and restore all that has crumbled. Restore, rebuild, reimagine — do what it takes for us to begin to shine once again. In Jesus' name, we pray. Amen.
